NATION JOINS IN MEMORY'S TRIBUTE

MANY NOTABLES THERE; PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 30.—The McKinley mausoleum, the tribute and gift of the nation to the martyred president, William McKinley, was dedicated this afternoon in the presence of hundreds of distinguished men from all parts of the United States, in the presence of representatives of foreign countries and in the presence of a crowd of approximately fifty thousand gathered from all parts of the country. A feature of the dedication was the presence of the president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, Vice President Fairbanks, members of the president's cabinet, United States senators and governors of several states.

Addresses were delivered by President Roosevelt, Justice Wm. R. Day, McKinley's secretary of state, and Governor Andrew Harris, of Ohio.

The president of the day was Governor Harris, who was introduced by Justice Day. The introduction of the president of the day was followed by an invocation by Rev. Dr. Frank M. Bristol, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church, of Washington, D. C.

The opening address was then given by Justice Day. This was followed by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Grand Army band, of Canton, the Canton Singers club and the entire assemblage led by E. Reynkendorff.

Gov. Harris then delivered an address which was followed by the unveiling of the bronze statue of William McKinley by Miss Helen McKinley, of Cleveland, the only sister of the late president.

James Whitcomb Riley read a poem composed for the occasion.

This was followed by the address of President Roosevelt. The program was closed by the singing of "America" and benediction by the Right Rev. Ignatius F. Horstmann, Bishop of Cleveland.

ARRIVED ON TIME.

President Roosevelt Gets a Royal Greeting at Canton.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 30.—The weather conditions today were favorable for a successful day attending the dedication of the McKinley memorial. The day broke clear and crisp. All day yesterday thousands of people poured into the city to witness the ceremonies and by night the city was filled and every available space in hotels, boarding houses and private residences was taken. Many late comers were compelled to walk the streets all night. By 9 o'clock everything was in readiness for the dedication ceremonies.

President Roosevelt and party arrived at 10:15 a. m. over the Pennsylvania on scheduled time. He was met by the reception committee.

Speaks to School Children.

President Roosevelt was escorted immediately to the Central high school, where he was greeted by many children of the public and parochial schools. Immediately following this the president reviewed the parade. This was followed by an elaborate luncheon to the president attended by many prominent persons.

The president was then taken to the monument, two miles west of the city, where the ceremonies proper were held.

Among the prominent guests here today are Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou, formerly private secretary to President McKinley, and one of the trustees of the McKinley Memorial association; Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the national republican committee; former Governor Murphy, of New Jersey; Governor Andrew L. Harris, of Ohio, who also is presiding officer of the day; former Governor Myron T. Herick, of Ohio; John G. Milburn, of Buffalo, at whose home McKinley died six years ago, and Lieut. James, representing the British embassy.

The Presidential Party.

In the presence of an immense throng of people gathered at the Pennsylvania station, the train bearing President Roosevelt and his party reached here at 10:15 this morning, promply on schedule time. Upon leaving the train, the reception committee entered carriages and accompanied the president to the Central high school. The carriages were occupied as follows:

First carriage—President Roosevelt, Mayor A. R. Turnbull, of Canton; Secretary Loeb and Chairman J. Whiting, jr., of the reception committee.

Second carriage—Surgeon General Rixey, of the U. S. N.; Assistant Secretary to the President Latta and two secret service officers.

Third carriage—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou, Justice William R. Day, Secretary of the Interior Garfield and local committee men.

These carriages were followed by several others conveying additional members of the reception committee.

Crowds Greet President.

The streets leading from the Pennsylvania station were lined by thousands of spectators. At the station the crowd was so dense that the party had great difficulty in entering the carriages, but there was no material delay, owing to the strict guard maintained by the militiamen. The streets were roped off and the crowd was forced to remain upon the sidewalk. Soldiers were stationed every fifty feet and stood at attention outside the ropes. The pavement was kept absolutely clear for the carriages and escorts.

Along the line of march to the Central high school, a distance of about half a mile, the president was greeted by cheers and waving of hats and handkerchiefs. President Roosevelt arose repeatedly, and when near the school house stood up all the time, bowing and raising his hat in acknowledgment of the greetings tendered him. When he neared the school building the 1,700 children grouped to represent the national flag arose in a body and sang "America."

President Reviews Parade.

Contrary to expectations the president did not stop to speak, but was driven directly to the reviewing stand, where the parade passed. The parade began at 10:30 a. m. and occupied about one hour and a half in passing.

The parade was in charge of Senator Charles Dick, chief marshal of the day. Senator Dick, who is suffering from rheumatism, was unable to precede the parade on horseback, as originally intended, but rode in a carriage. The chief marshal's aides were: Captain Ira I. Morrison, Lieut. John J. Bond, 19th U. S. infantry; Lieut. Leo B. Dannemiller, 11th U. S. infantry; Lieut. John G. Moore, 7th U. S. infantry. President Roosevelt, surrounded by members of the reception committee and others, admitted by tickets, occupied a central position in the grand stand.

The section of the city immediately surrounding the reviewing stand was roped as well as other parts of the downtown streets, and all other routes traversed by the president, and were heavily guarded.

At these soldiers stood shoulder to shoulder and no one was allowed near the chief executive.

He was closely guarded by secret service officers, who also walked by the side of his carriage.

Luncheon at Auditorium.

When the parade had finally passed the reviewing stand President Roosevelt was immediately escorted to the auditorium, where the official luncheon was served, participated in by all of the invited guests. Those who rode with the president from the reviewing stand to the auditorium were Vice President Fairbanks, Secretary Loeb and Governor Harris.

Leaving the auditorium after the lunch the presidential party and hon-

TRACK IN FINE SHAPE FOR AUTOMOBILE RACING

Dried Out Fast During the Day and Everything is Ready.

The mile track at the driving park is in excellent condition for the automobile races tomorrow as it dried out rapidly during the day and there is no danger that it will be dusty for the program tomorrow afternoon. With no more rain it will be very fast and this is what the automobilists want.

All of the arrangements are completed for one of the biggest events in the history of the state and aside from the big event in which Barney Oldfield and Savin will take part the program will be enlivened by the presence of the City Packard band, which will give a concert commencing at 1:30 o'clock.

Arrangements for car service are perfect and the promoters of the affair say that it will be more complete in all its details than if it had been pulled off on Saturday as first scheduled.

FRISCO FAST TRAIN WRECKED AND BURNED

One Killed and Many Injured in a Disaster Near Dixon, Mo.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The fast train on the Frisco road, known as the Meteor, due in St. Louis at 11:30 a. m., was derailed and wrecked near Dixon, 125 miles southwest of St. Louis, at 7 o'clock this morning and according to official advices received at the Frisco general offices here, two persons were killed, one seriously injured and the passengers were badly bruised, but none was killed.

The dead:

ENGINEER CHAMBERS, of Springfield, Mo.

MAIL CLERK FRANK E. CROSSEY, of St. Louis.

Injured:

Fireman Stockstill.

The engine and forward portion of the train overturned, the cars taking fire and being consumed. Only meager particulars have been received by the Frisco headquarters. An appeal for assistance was sent to Rolla, 25 miles east of the scene and a special train bearing physicians, nurses and fire fighting apparatus was sent from there. Dixon hill is a steep grade, and the engine jumped the track while speeding down grade, tearing up a section of the track and ditching the cars. The cause of the derailment has not been learned.

TWENTY ARE INJURED.

Three May Die as Result of Crash Near Stanton, Mo.

Stanton, Mo., Sept. 30.—The southbound Texas limited train on the Frisco road, collided with a freight near here shortly before midnight and about twenty persons were injured, three of whom may die.

LIGHT BULBS EXPLODE; PANIC.

Guests at Pittsburg Hotel Alarmed When Car Hits Wagon.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—Guests at the Monongahela house rushed panic stricken from the place this morning when a series of explosions like the rattle of musketry occurred. A street car in Smithfield street hit a wagon filled with boxes of electric light bulbs, scattering the bulbs and wagon over the street. The exploding bulbs made a big racket. The negro driver of the wagon escaped injury.

STRIKE IS GROWING.

Total of 550 Railway Clerks Now Out at Toledo.

Toledo, O., Sept. 30.—Striking railway clerks here now number 550 and the strikers expect 250 more men out within forty-eight hours. Business is being handled with little interruption by roads. The striking clerks threaten to call out members of the union in Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and other cities reached by the roads affected.

REBELS AND RURALES IN EXCHANGE OF SHOTS

Variety of Troubles in Cuba Not Expected to Be Serious.

Havana, Sept. 10.—The small band of rebels which have been traversing the country in the vicinity of Mayari, in the northern section of Santiago province, has, according to late dispitches, again exchanged shots with the pursuing rurales. The latter are close on the heels of the bandits.

While there are signs of unrest in various parts of the island, the opinion prevails here that no serious disturbance is likely. On commenting on the situation the Diario de la Marine says:

"A combination of unpleasant circumstances having no link one with the other, appears to make the situation at first sight more serious than it really is. Each one of the problems that at present confront the administration—the yellow fever, the conspiracy of Parra, Miraet and Ducassi, and the existence of bands of outlaws in the country, and the railway strike, is of an alarming character, but except for the tendency of the strike to become general and stop railway communication throughout the island, these events are of no great importance in themselves."

SON OF CAPITALIST ELOPES.

William B. Hart, of St. Louis, Races to Marriage in Auto.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—A. B. Hart, a capitalist, was dumfounded yesterday when he received a letter from his son, William A. Hart, saying "We are married now."

The son eloped in an auto to St. Charles, Mo., yesterday afternoon with eighteen year old Miss Suzanne Adams, daughter of the late Dr. Wellington Adams, inventor, and granddaughter of A. W. Slayback, who was slain in the Post-Dispatch sanctum by Editor Cockerill about a quarter of a century ago.

BADLY BITTEN ON HAND.

In attempting to separate two dogs that were fighting this morning, Alva Reed, of Bloomingdale, was bitten through the left hand. The teeth of the animal lacerated the flesh seriously and the wounds were cauterized by a physician.

THIRTEENTH WIFE IN COURT ASKS AN ANNULMENT

Thirteen proved a most unlucky number for Albert Wright, alias Edward F. Holden, as evidence was introduced in the superior court this morning to show that after he had married his thirteenth wife in the person of Anna Mary Hoffer he went to Ohio, was captured and sent to the Columbus penitentiary for a term of six years.

Mrs. Hoffer, who is a washerwoman, had been married before and has four children in the Reformed Orphans' home. She testified that she was married to Holden after an acquaintance of two weeks that began when he "fetched" his laundry to her house and had her do his washing. Her story of their life together is to the effect that he had no money and she supplied him with food and clothing from the date of their marriage, on October 26, of last year, to December 6, when he left ostensibly to preach at Marion, Ind.

She did not hear from him again until she got a letter from his attorneys at Toledo, where he was arrested, asking her to sell a horse he left here to procure money for his defense. After his conviction she went to Columbus to see him, but was not permitted to visit him at the prison and she worked there for three weeks in a hotel to get money to pay her way back.

She picked up information at Columbus that warranted her in the statement that the man in question has a son in the Ohio penitentiary for bigamy and another in the west who is serving a term for a similar offense. At the conclusion of the testimony Judge Heaton granted the annulment of the marriage contract. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. H. P. Dannecker.

Little is known of Wright or Holden in Fort Wayne. He represented himself as an itinerant preacher and Mrs. Hoffer testified that he delivered several sermons at the Home mission during his stay in Fort Wayne. She did not ask any questions about his antecedents and took him upon his representation that he was a single man and had no wives living.

An affidavit from O. B. Gould, warden of the Ohio penitentiary, showed that Wright, alias Holden, had been received for six years from Lucas county for bigamy, and Judge Heaton did not hesitate about entering the decree.

She submitted to court newspaper clipping indicating that Holden had admitted in his trial that he was guilty of bigamy, but told on the stand that a physician who examined him had said he had a peculiar affection of the spine that incited him to marry repeatedly and that he was not a criminal at heart, but the victim of a strange disease. The trial judge did not take much stock in this story and handed him as warm a roasting as ever emanated from a court bench.

WILL TELL WHAT HE KNOWS TO THE GRAND JURY

More Rebating Prosecutions Likely from Moffett's Charges.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—According to his counsel, James A. Moffett, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, will tomorrow give evidence to the federal grand jury which will justify the statements that have been made by Mr. Moffett to the effect that other shippers in the neighborhood of Whiting, Ind., have been as guilty of rebating with the railroads as the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which recently received a record-breaking fine in the court of Judge Landis.

It is said that the evidence which will be given by Mr. Moffet will result in the summoning of numerous other witnesses and cause the government to proceed against several other corporations which will be named.

NEW STATE JOB GOES TO A MAN FROM LAFAYETTE

Harvey C. Ohney is Named as Executive Accountant of Indiana.

Indianapolis, Sept. 30.—Governor Hanly has appointed Harvey C. Ohney, of Lafayette, as executive accountant of Indiana. This position was created by the last legislature and carries with it a salary of $2,500 a year.

It is the duty of the executive accountant to keep in close touch with the accounts of all state institutions and state offices. He will work under the direction of the governor.

PRESIDENT TO MAKE BRIEF STOP IN FORT WAYNE

His Train Will Be Transferred to Wabash Here Tonight.

Provided the train schedule as arranged for the special carrying President Roosevelt is carried out, the chief executive of the nation will be in Fort Wayne this evening long enough to have his train transferred from the Pennsylvania to the Wabash railroad.

The time set for the arrival of the train is 8:50 o'clock, and the time allowed for transferring it is ten minutes, although it is believed a longer time will be necessary. There will be no public demonstration of any kind as the short period of the visit will not permit of it.

Mr. Roosevelt made an address this afternoon at the dedication of the McKinley monument at Canton and from there he started to Keokuk, Ia., whence he will make a trip down the Mississippi river.

In all probability an immense crowd will gather at the south depot in an effort to get a glimpse of the president, and there are those who believe the president may be induced to speak briefly.

HANLY FAVORS TOTAL EXTINCTION OF SALOONS

Indiana Governor Speaks to Chicago Ministerial Association.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Governor J. Frank Hanly, of Indiana, today delivered an address before the Chicago Ministerial association upon the liquor traffic.

He declared that the world still needs a militant church in order to fight the liquor power which recognizes, he said, no law on earth. He declared that crime had decreased in his state where the local option law had been enforced and favored the total extinction of the saloons.

STATE ASKS FIGURES REGARDING THE SALOONS

Wants Discrepancies in Temperance Data Cleared Away.

Indianapolis, Sept. 30.—Inquiries have been mailed to each county auditor of the state by Miss Mary Stubbs, state statistician, asking the number of saloon licenses granted in each county from January to July of the present year; how many of them are yet running; the residence of the parties licensed, and how many saloons are believed to be owned by breweries.

"This information is desired by the department," said Miss Stubbs yesterday, "because of discrepancies in temperance people of the state and Governor Hanly, who is known to be taking a hand in the prosecution of saloons in some parts of the state.

Neither Governor Hanly nor Miss Stubbs would confirm or deny this phase of the question yesterday, but it is said, upon reliable authority, that the questions are of a fishing character upon which the temperance people may institute prosecutions or various law actions where possible.

Governor Takes Hand.

The brewers' agreement, recently adopted by the brewers of the state, provides for the weeding out of objectionable saloons in the state. The brewers claim that there are 6,000 saloons of the state, while the figures gathered by the state bureau of statistics show about 5,400 at the end of the year 1906. The temperance people intend to keep watch on the brewers in order to see just how many saloons the brewers' agreement abolishes.

Governor Hanly is said to be taking a hand in the prosecution of saloons at Kokomo, by reason of the fact that Attorney General James Bingham recently appeared in an action there, and it is said that action first, if prosecution be intended, will be directed against saloons at that place.

Replies to inquiries sent to Auditor Benson of Howard county by the state bureau of statistics show that the city of Kokomo has licensed eleven saloons from January to July, ten of which are still running with a question as to the residence of one of the parties holding license. Auditor Benson could give the bureau no information as to the brewery connections of the Kokomo saloons.

The Cheerful Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. Segar Tuesday afternoon.

FRED L. FEICK WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Friends of Garrett Labor Leader Active in His Bhalf.

Garrett, Ind., Sept. 30.—It can be stated as a political news item of some considerable interest, one that will set the tongues of the politicians in both parties to wagging, that Fred L. Feick, the well known labor leader of this city, is not only going "to show his hand" in politics, but that he may be one of the standard bearers in the political campaign of next year, either the democratic or the independent candidate for congress in the Twelfth congressional district.

This is no idle gossip. It is a movement that has been "nursing" for some considerable time. It has been talked about here in Garrett for several weeks, and also among members of labor unions throughout the district. And Mr. Feick has not turned an unwilling ear to this talk. He is in the attitude of many another man who has felt the political bee buzzing around him—"in the hands of his friends." He wouldn't refuse the nomination if it was tendered him.

The plan is that the labor unions are to push his candidacy for the democratic nomination for congress. Feick is a democrat. As the candidate of his party, it is argued, he would hold the labor vote of that party and also draw to him the labor vote among the republicans. With the district considered "somewhat shaky," this vote-getting quality among the labor unions is said to be a necessity in the congressional candidate. Fred Feick, his friends say, fills it. Hence the movement for his nomination.

I nhis position as a representative of the railroad trainmen Mr. Feick has spoken in many cities in this and other states. He is a young man of fine talents and good speaking abilities—a man of ideas and courage, not afraid to speak his mind, which he always does forcibly. He created considerable of a breeze here in Garrett, at a trainmen's anniversary meeting held two weeks ago, by urging labor "to show its hand" in politics, and he did the same at the state meeting of the Indiana Federation of Labor held at Muncie last week.

FORT WAYNE FLAGMAN MEETS DEATH IN ACCIDENT

Albert G. Myers Crushed Betwen Cars at Wanatah.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday night Albert G. Myers was instantly killed while fastening two cars together with a chain on a Pennsylvania siding at Wanatah. The unfortunate man was a flagman and the train had stopped at Wanatah to take on some cars, one of which was minus a draw bar. To move it it was necessary to connect it with another car by means of a crain and while Mr. Myers was making the connection the engine backed agalast the string of cars and the flagman was crushed between the endsills in a frightful manner, his chest and shoulders being crowded into a space of a few inches. The other members of the crew rushed to the assistance of their comrade, but could do nothing except to remove his dead body, for death was instantaneous.

Coroner S. L. Mack was summoned from Laporte and after viewing the remains ordered them removed to an undertaking establishment and prepared for removal to Fort Wayne. S. C. Middleton an uncle of the deceased, and a committee from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, of which Mr. Myers was a member, went to Wanatah on an early train yesterday morning and brought the body to the city on No. 16 at noon. It is now at the home of the family, at No. 1454 Fletcher avenue, where funeral services under the auspices of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, B. R. T., will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment will take place in the family lot in the cemetery in New Haven, the funeral party leaving the residence on an interurban car at 3:05. The pall-bearers, who are members of the B. R. T., will be A. J. Small, L. C. Jolly, G. W. Baillett, G. B. McCormick, Val Webber and Henry Webber.

Albert G. Myers was the only child of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Myers, of Maples, and was born in that town May 11, 1884. He was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Fry, of Madison township, the ceremony taking place at the M. E. church in Monroeville, November 25, 1903, who with two sons, Darwin, aged two years, and Ross, aged three months, survive him. Other surviving relatives are the parents, two grandparents and a grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Myers, of Massillon, Ohio, and George A. Middleton, of this city, and a number of uncles and aunts. Mr. Myers united with the M. E. church at Maples when a boy and was a regular and consistent member up to the time he left his home, five years ago, and took a position as brakeman on the Pennsylvania road. He was faithful in the discharge of his duties and stood high in the regards of the officials and his fellow trainmen. He was recently promoted from brakeman to flagman and further promotion would have followed soon had the young man lived.

The train with which Mr. Myers was one of the crew left this city Saturday evening at 6 o'clock and he met with the accident at 9:50 o'clock. It was in charge of Conductor A. Niffen, hauled by engine 7421, with Engineer E. Blanchard and Fireman E. G. Ludwig in the cab.

RALLY DAY AT GRACE CHURCH.

There was a large attendance of both the Sunday school and the congregation of Grace Reformed church on Sunday at the "Rally Day" exercises. One feature of pretty as well as special significance was the "cradle roll." All infants in families of the church are enrolled soon after birth and at rally day exercises the roll is called and birthday cards are given each child. There are fifty on the baby roll at present and nearly half that number were present at the services yesterday. Each baby received a pretty pin and each child of the Sunday school was presented with a souvenir. In the evening the Young People's society held a special service with large attendance.

A. G. Shearman, formerly of this city, has resigned his position as traveling passenger agent for the Nickel Plate railroad at St. Paul and moved to Oberlin, Ill., as his health is very poor, and he hopes to receive some improvement by this action.

TROLLEY LINE TRACKS NOW VERY NEAR WATERLOO

Garrett, Ind., Sept. 30.—President Perkins, of the Toledo and Chicago interurban, was in the city Saturday evening and in reply to a question from The Sentinel reporter as to when the extension of the road from Auburn to Waterloo would be completed and cars in operation, said:

"Well, I can't say. It will not be long, however. The tracks are practically laid to Waterloo. There have been several things that have delayed the work of grading and entrance to Waterloo, but we are pushing along as best we can. No, I couldn't give you a date as to the possible completion of the line to Waterloo."

The company has been doing an immense amount of work along the line of the road this summer, ballasting and improvements of other character. The condition of the tracks is much better than formerly. This is noticed by those who frequently ride over the road and is the subject of remark. The company now has a schedule of an hour and a half, inaugurated only a few weeks ago. At first they found it hard to work it, but now the service is pretty regular. The road has a good passenger business and its freight traffic is simply immense.

GARRET LOCAL NEWS.

Garrett, Ind., Sept. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Chris Fellers, of Fort Wayne, have been the guests for a few days of Marshall and Mrs. Wm. Schudell, the parents of Mrs. Fellers. Mr. Fellers is employed in the Pennsylvania shops at Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, who have been at Kendallville for several days visiting their parents and other relatives, returned home today. Kendallville, their old home, had many pleasant associations for them and, after taking in the northeastern fair, they remained for a visit.

John Mager, jr., who has been critically ill at the Sacred Heart hospital here for the last few weeks, is slowly improving. The belief is now that he will entirely recover from his illness. He is a well known young man and general interest is felt in regard to his condition.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fredericks, in this city, on Saturday afternoon, occurred the marriage of Miss Mary Edith Fredericks and Mr. Homer H. Allen, the latter of Erie, Pa. The young people left on a wedding trip to New York and Boston and will be at home at Erie next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gettel and the former's sister, Miss Emma Gettel, were the guests or Fort Wayne friends yesterday. Miss Gettel, who has been visiting in Garrett, returned today to her home near Cambridge City.

CUT HIS ARM; BROKE WINDOW.

Thomas W. Morris Has Narrow Escape From Bleeding to Death.

Thomas W. Morris, a sash maker who registered at the Union house Saturday night, was found almost exhausted in his room yesterday afternoon from the loss of blood that escaped from several cuts on his arms. He was said to be under the influence of liquor and had broken one of the windows and it is supposed he did not realize his condition and failed to call for help.

He was not wounded when he went to bed, although there was a report that he had had a difficulty in a saloon at Main and Harrison streets Saturday night. Patrolman Dickson investigated this, but could not find any proof that a fight had taken place. The room was covered with blood and the supposition is that after Morris cut himself he staggered about and spattered the walls and furniture. Dr. McKeeman dressed his wounds and he will recover.

John Gunsett, of Convoy, Ohio, is in the city on business. Mr. Gunsett is a well known breeder of short horn cattle.

Arthur F. Hall, secretary of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, has returned from a business trip to Indianapolis.

Chas. A. Miller, of Chicago, is in the city for a few days. Mr. Miller was formerly in the furniture business on East Main street in this city.

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA

The cause of Eczema is a too acid condition of the blood. The itching, burning eruptions are caused by the outpouring through the pores and glands of the skin, of the fiery poisons with which the circulation is loaded. This acrid matter coming in contact with the delicate tissues and fibres with which the skin is so abundantly supplied causes irritation and inflammation and often excessive discomfort and annoyance. While external applications, such as salves, washes, lotions, etc., are soothing and cleansing they are in no wise curative, because they do not reach the blood where the trouble is located. You can never cure Eczema with outside treatment; the blood must be purified. S. S. S. is the best treatment for the disease. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes the acids and humors with which the blood is infected, and makes the blood-current fresh and healthy. Then instead of fiery, acrid matter oozing out through the pores and glands, irritating the cuticle, the skin is nourished by a rich, cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. removes every trace of the disease, and when the cure is complete the skin is left smooth and free from any eruption. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice furnished free of charge to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

An Imitation Stove Will Give Imitation Heat

Avoid the cheaply constructed, putty jointed stove as you would counterfeit money, because it is just as worthless—and in many cases even more so. For not only does it radiate heat badly, but it wastes its original cost many times in fuel.

The majority of manufacturers, atiracted by the phenomenal success of Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove, have imitated and copied it ever since it was put on the market. But in looks only have they been able to reproduce this wonderful heater.

For the features which make Cole's Hot Blast so economical in fuel, so effective in heating, and so durable in construction, are all patented and protected.

The joints of the ordinary stove are plastered with stove putty in an endeavor to make them air-tight.

When the putty dries up and falls out, cold air is sucked in through the cracks—and the valuable gases from soft or hard coal, which should be burned, go up the chimney, along with most of the heat.

Shows Cole's Hot Blast Stove Burning Soft Coal

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal or Wood

Made without stove putty. It remains air tight during the entire life of the stove, and is sold under the following guarantee, which cannot be made on any other heating stove in the world:

GUARANTEE:

1—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal or slack.
2—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire-pot.
3—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning, with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
4—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.
5—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal, or lignite.
6—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
7—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The big expense of heating your home is in the fuel and not the first cost of your stove. Don't let yourself be persuaded to buy anything but Cole's Original Hot Blast.

Ask for free booklet on "Scientific Combustion," which will show you how to heat your home twice as comfortably at one-half the present cost.

CAUTION See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago," on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it.

SHORT SLEEVES WRECK LOVE'S SWEET DREAM

Glens Falls, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The romance of George Thurston and Carrie Hart has been shattered, and all because young Thurston refused to take for better or for worse a woman who wore short sleeved gowns.

Thurston is a well to do farmer living in the outskirts of the town. Some months ago he decided that he had lived long enough without a spouse and advertised for one who "cooked well, liked music and dressed modestly." The advertisement was placed in a New York city newspaper, and Mr. Thurston received a multitude of answers. In fact, for several days his mail was heavy with letters and pictures of young women, widows and elderly spinsters who were anxious to venture upon the sea of matrimony.

Of all those who wrote Miss Hart struck Thurston's fancy most, and he opened correspondence with her. The young woman seemed to answer all the requirements, and after photographs had been exchanged and the farmer had looked the woman up through a firm of lawyers he made her a proposal of marriage, and the wedding day was set.

When Miss Hart got off the train at Glens Falls Thurston was horrified to observe that she wore a gown with short sleeves.

"Do you call those modest?" he asked almost before they had exchanged greetings.

"Call what modest?" gasped Miss Hart, too surprised to comprehend.

"Those sleeves," said Thurston, pointing to the offending gown. "I think they are awful."

Miss Hart was incensed. She declared that her gown was of the latest mode; the best people wore just such, and if Thurston didn't like the way she dressed she would go home. And home she went on the first train.

Thurston said he didn't care what the style was, that he knew what modesty was, and that she could go if she liked.

Now he thinks he'll look around Glens Falls and see if he can't find the kind of a spouse he wants and one who will wear sleeves to the wrist.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diahhhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. Serve with cream.

Stewed Tomatoes and Corn, Mexican Style—Peel six tomatoes. Cut them in quarters and press out all or part of the seeds. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a granite pan; add a sweet green or red pepper chopped fine and let cook without browning. Then add the tomato and about a teaspoonful of salt and let cook until well heated through. Then add one pint of hot, fresh boiled corn cut from the cob. Add a tablespoonful or two of butter and more salt, if needed, and serve at once. (Janet M. Hill.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

General Linevitch, once a Russian officer of anticipated distinction, invites disagreeable comparisons when he says that "the American nation relies too much on its fleet." It will probably be remembered that the Russian nation at one time relied considerably on General Linevitch.

The suggestion that the venerable Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia, shall accept the democratic nomination for governor has called forth a deal of more or less humorous comment, based chiefly upon his age. The truth is that Mr. Davis is hale, hearty and vigorous at eighty-three years, and that he has been and is still capable of being a power in his state. When West Virginia was reliably democratic, he exerted a potent influence in both party and governmental affairs.

Within the next year, the government will open to settlement about five million acres of timber, agricultural and mineral lands in the far northwest, estimated as sufficient to supply homes for 35,000 families. These land are located in eight Indian reservations in Washington, Idaho, Montana and South Dakota. Who will occupy these fertile acres? Not the immigrants who are daily flocking to our shores, but men and women who are already American citizens. The shiploads of Italians, Poles, Russians, who pass the gates of Castle Garden, will settle down in the congested cities of the east and middle states, adding their poverty and ignorance to the burden of the civic problem; while the great northwest beckons them in vain to a broad and prosperous existence, a life of comfort and plenty, upon its virgin soil.

Bulletin No 88 of the Bureau of the Census deals with the power employed in manufactures and is based on statistics for the calendar year 1904. According to this report the total power employed in manufactures was 14,641,544 horsepower, an increase of more than 40 per cent since 1900. Of this total sum steam engines contributed 73.9 per cent, water wheels 11.3 per cent, electric power 10.9 per cent, gas or gasoline engines 2 per cent, and all other kinds of power 1.9 per cent. It is worth noting that in five years the power from owned electric motors had increased 270.5 per cent, that from rented electric power 141.9 per cent, from gas and gasoline 114.9 per cent and from steam engines 33 per cent, showing that, while still far in the lead, the steam engine as a motive power fails to keep up the pace. For the first time in the history of the country the southern states reported more power in use than the New England states. New York leads in the amount of water power used, of which the paper and wood pulp manufacturers took 73 per cent. Maine was the second state in this class. Gas and gasoline power is used very generally throughout the country, being reported from every state and territory.

It is popular nowadays to damn the railroads, and doubtless they deserve it in many instances. They do not deserve, however, disparaging comparisons with European railroads. In a recent report, Consul George N. Ifft, of Annaberg, tells some interesting facts concerning the railroads of Saxony. The Saxony railroads are owned and operated by the government. They carried $1,145,826 passengers during the year, of whom more than half traveled third-class, a third fourth-class, and only 189,871 traveled first-class. These railroads serve a population of 4,508,000 in an area about equal to the combined area of Connecticut and Rhode Island. During the year they killed 196 persons, a record which will not compare favorably with American roads which are classed as the most dangerous in the world. The service, however, despite the density of the population cannot compare with the service American roads give. Engines and cars are light, and if placed alongside of American trains would resemble toys. The trains are mostly slow and make so many stops that the shortest journey becomes tiresome. Connections are not good. If a passenger wants accommodations approaching those given in America in the average day coach, the fare is much higher than it is here.

JAPS HAIL SECRETARY TAFT AS PEACE ENVOY

He May Broach Subject of Immigration to the Mikado.

Tokio, Sept. 30.—The Japanese believe William H. Taft, secretary of war of the United States, has come here as a peace envoy, and yesterday afternoon as he took with his family a long drive in the imperial carriage he was everywhere greeted with cries of "banzai," bows, smiles and general enthusiasm of a spontaneous character.

Among the most important of the callers of the secretary was Lieut. Gen. Terauchi, the imperial minister of war, who had a lengthy conference with Mr. Taft. Some importance is being attached to the fact that there have been two conferences between the two war ministers and on account of the mutual admiration and the influence of Lieut. Gen. Terauchi, it is believed in certain quarters that the ground work is being laid for an entente concerning immigration, which, it is conceded, is the only point on which there is difference of opinion between the two countries.

It is intimated that if the opportunity arises during his conference with the emperor on Oct. 2, Mr. Taft may broach this subject to him and leave its future arrangement to Mr. O'Brien, the American ambassador. Diplomatic circles, however, do not credit this rumor, it being asserted there that Mr. Taft is not on a direct mission. The probability of such an occurrence, however, is freely discussed among the Japanese.

Another of Mr. Taft's callers today was Leveus Wilfley, representing American commercial interests in Shanghai, who is anxious concerning the attitude of the United States in view of the talk of the dismemberment of China, and who came here to request that Mr. Taft make a positive statement concerning this on the occasion of the dinner to be given in his honor by the American association of Shanghai. It is understood that Mr. Wilfley was informed that Secretary Taft would make no statement on the question.

Secretary Taft and his party spent much of the day resting in the palace of Shiba, an ancient and picturesque residence belonging to the imperial family.

Charley Taft, the secretary's son, organized a base ball game on the famous lawn of the castle with a number of Japanese youths. It was intended to play the game yesterday, but his father objected and caused a postponement until today.

DESPONDENT FARMER IS FOUND HANGING IN DENSE WOODS

William Horstmeyer Takes His Life on Farm in Aboite Township.

William Horstmeyer, an Aboit township farmer living seven miles west of the city, committed suicide Saturday afternoon by hanging himself to the limb of a tree in a dense woods on his farm. The body was found by Carl Christie and William Dickey, members of a party which had been searching for him several hours. It was cut down and after being viewed by the coroner was removed to the Klaehn & Melching undertaking establishment.

Horstmeyer was 59 years old and had resided in Aboit township about fifteen years, prior to which he was employed as a tailor in the establishment of J. G. Thieme & Bro. in Fort Wayne. He had been despondent for some time because his work did not progress satisfactorily but gave no intimation that he would seek to take his own life.

Circumstances indicate that he climbed into the tree and after he had tied the rope with which he hung himself to a limb he let his body down, as it was three feet above the ground and there was nothing on which he could have stood while he adjusted the rope.

The surviving family consists of the widow and three children—Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. Louis Horstmeyer and Otto Horstmeyer. The latter is a sailor aboard the Kearsarge.

Since the beginning of this year five male immigrants have landed in New York city to two female immigrants.

Some of the saloons closed their front doors at midnight last night.

Three hundred students are expected to enroll when the term of Concordia college begins next Monday.

M. J. Houlihan, secretary of the Fort Wayne Catholic Library association, announced an election of directors for the organization to be held October 5.

Andy Thieme, Muncie brakeman, fell between the cars at Shideler station and his right arm was so badly injured that Drs. Gregg, Stemen and Bruebach were compelled to amputate it.

"Jumbo," who won the roadster race at the fair grounds yesterday, was bought for $65 by George Ortlieb out of a wagon used to haul stone. The horse was sold to Mr. Emmett Powers for $250.

The lecture of ex-President Colfax last night at the Berry street M. E. church drew a large audience in spite of the many other attractions in the city. His theme was "Our Martyred Presidents—Lincoln and Garfield."

Hon. T. A. Hendricks arrived this afternoon over the Wabash and was met at the depot by Mayor Zollinger and other gentlemen and escorted to apartments reserved for him at the Aveline. During the day Mr. Hendricks informally received old friends. He visited the fair this afternoon.

The Globe chophouse closed its doors at 2 o'clock this morning. The establishment was eaten out and had to lay in new supplies. The hotels were full to overflowing from the fair crowds and many people from out of town walked the streets all night, vainly endeavoring to secure lodging.

A few days ago Lieut. Gen. Sam B. Sweet, freight agent of the Wabash at this point, was tendered a similar position by the same company at Toledo. Although the position is far more lucrative and responsible, Mr. Sweet declined to accept. He dislikes to leave his many friends and home in this city.

A PLAIN TALK

Since the great advance in wool three years ago, which caused many of the owners of cloth mills to use mercerized cotton in the place of wool, we have been warning the people of Fort Wayne against this bad material. Experience is the best teacher, and those who have had experience with mercerized cotton must have been taught that they did not want any more of it in a suit.

Now if you are one of these young men who bought a mercerized cotton suit last spring and have noticed the difference between your suit and some fellow wearing one of our pure wool hand tailored suits, you had better not run a chance of getting another one filled with mercerized cotton.

ored guests of the day proceeded directly to the Monument hill, two mile west of the city. On this ride the president was accompanied by Vice President Fairbanks, Secretary Loeb and Justice Day.

Carriages containing the others followed.

President Reaches Stand.

The presidential party arrived at the speakers' stand at 1:47. The party proceeded at once to the chairs reserved for each guest. The arrival of President Roosevelt on the stand was awaited anxiously and he was greeted with cheers. The audience arose. The president was the last to enter the stand, as his carriage was well back in the line of carriages which conveyed the party to the monument. He was accompanied by Justice Day and Vice President Fairbanks.

Justice Day called the assemblage to order and introduced Gov. Harris. Justice Day said: "On behalf of the McKinley National Memorial association, I am pleased to say that Governor Harris will be the president of the day. The choice is exceptionally fitting."

Governor Harris said he would make no remarks and at once proceeded with the program. He introduced Rev. Dr. Bristol, of Washington, D. C., whose church President McKinley attended when in Washington. Rev. Dr. Bristol offered prayer. Governor Harris then delivered the opening address of the ceremony.

The address of Governor Harris was followed by the unveiling of the statue of McKinley.

Judge Day's Address.

Judge Day spoke upon "The Building of the Memorial." He recounted at some length the history of the formation and work of the McKinley National Memorial association. He narrated the story of the response of the American people to the request for funds to construct the monument, saying:

"It was informally decided that the sum of $600,000 would be necessary to erect a suitable memorial and properly endow it with a fund for its care. This sum was apportioned among the states in a manner which seemed just and equitable.

"At a meeting of the trustees on June 22nd, 1903, a report of the treasurer showing that $500,000 had been subscribed to the memorial fund, it was determined that designs for the memorial should be invited. While the sum subscribed was thought ample to erect the memorial, it was recommended that an additional fund of $100,000 would be necessary for the permanent endowment of the monument with a view to its future care and repair.

"More than sixty designs were submitted in response to the request of the board of trustees. In the selection of the design the trustees invited the co-operation of Messrs. Robert S. Peabody, of Boston; Walter Cook, of New York, and Daniel Chester French, of New York. This jury of experts with the approval of a committee from the board of trustees, without knowledge of the originators selected the design submitted by Harold Van Buren Magonigle, of New York. The bronze statue and lunette are the work of Charles Henry Niehaus, of New York. The statue represents President McKinley in the attitude of delivering at Buffalo that message of peace on earth, good will toward men, which fate had decreed should be his last public utterance.

Over Half a Million Raised.

"For the construction and endowment of the monument the sum of $578,000 has been raised. The subscriptions have come from every part of the United States and outlying lands beyond the sea. Every civilized country in the world is represented in these contributions. On the reverse of the pedestal is inscribed the simple fact that over the world more than a million thus testified their devotion to the memory, and their appreciation of the life and character of the president who has been well called 'the Beloved of the People.'

"It is fitting that note should be taken of the fact that Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, the treasurer, has so managed the finances of the association that all its operating expenses have been paid from the income and earnings of its funds, leaving the handsome sum of $37,000, accumulated from the earnings, over and above the entire expenses of the association in constructing the memorial.

"Of the original board of trustees four have died during the progress of the work. They are Marcus A. Hanna, Postmaster General Henry C. Payne, Judge Eli S. Hammond and William A. Lynch. No attempt was made to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Hanna, and the other places were filled by the appointment of Charles G. Dawes, of Illinois; Horace H. Lurton, of Tennessee and Henry W. Harter, of Ohio. With the exception of the secretary while in charge, and the assistant secretary, there have been no paid officials of the association, and no expense incurred by the trustees in the discharge of their duties has been paid from its funds.

Inscriptions Are Significant.

"The mausoleum, as you behold, it today is constructed of Milford pink granite. The inscriptions below the cornice in the interior, 'Let us ever remember that our interest is in concord not conflict, and that our real eminence rests in the victories of peace, not those of war,' is from the last public utterance of the president at Buffalo.

"Upon the face of the pedestal of the statue these words are inscribed: 'William McKinley, president of the United States; a statesman singularly gifted to unite the discordant forces of government and mould the diverse purposes of men toward progressive and salutary action; a magistrate whose poise of judgment was tested and vindicated in a succession of national emergencies; good citizen, brave soldier, wise executive, helper and leader of men, exemplar to his people of the virtues that build and conserve the state, society and the home.'

"Perhaps no public man in our history has more attracted the attention of the people by the simplicity and beauty of his home life than did William McKinley. The devoted affection of the invalid wife, repaid by her with a love which never faltered, made of the Canton home a picture which all the world salutes as the perfection of domestic peace and conjugal affection, and which is forever consecrated in the memory of all who were permitted to behold it.

Wife and Babes With Him.

"It is fitting that beside the man whose first thought and purpose were ever for her, the beloved wife should be laid to rest. In the wall of the mausoleum niches have been provided for the two infant children early called from earth.

"Thousands of loving hands have joined to bring the little family together in this beautiful temple.

"In dedicating this memorial, from this day forth, to the high purposes for which it is intended, the trustees of the Memorial association cannot refrain from expressing the hope that it may serve to commemorate the life and deeds of the illustrious dead, may teach coming generations the lesson of a noble, pure and generous life, and impress upon the youth who shall look upon it in all the coming years, that true success is only to be built upon exalted character, and that the highest public honors and universal popular esteem are not inconsistent with a life devoted to the faithful and cheerful discharge of the simple duties of each day which make up the life of a good man and a patriotic citizen."

The President Speaks.

Then followed the address of the president, and Mr. Roosevelt was given another ovation as he arose to speak. In part he said:

We have gathered together today to pay our meed of respect and affection to the memory of William McKinley, who as president won a place in the hearts of the American people such as but three or four of all the presidents of this country have ever won. He was of singular uprightness and purity of character, alike in public and in private life; a citizen who loved peace, he did his duty faithfully and well for four years of war when the honor of the nation called him to arms. As congressman, as governor of his state, and finally as president, he rose to the foremost place among our statesmen, reaching a position which would satisfy the keenest ambition; but he never lost that simple and thoughtful kindness toward every human being, great or small, lofty or humble, with whom he was brought in contact, which so endeared him to our people. He had to grapple with more serious and complex problems than any president since Lincoln, and yet, while meeting every demand of statesmanship, he continued to live a beautiful and touching family life, a life very healthy for this nation to see in its foremost citizen; and now the woman who walked in the shadow ever after his death, the wife to whom his loss was a calamity more crushing than it could be to any other human being, lies beside him here in the same sepulcher.

History of the Epitaph.

There is a singular appropriateness in the inscription on his monument. Mr. Cortelyou, whose relations with him were of such close intimacy, gives me the following information about it: On the president's trip to the Pacific slope in the spring of 1901 President Wheeler, of the University of California, conferred the degree of LL. D. upon him in words so well chosen that they struck the fastidious taste of John Hay, then secretary of state, who wrote and asked for a copy of them from President Wheeler. On the receipt of this copy he sent the following letter to President McKinley, a letter which now seems filled with a strange and unconscious prescience:

Dear Mr. President:

President Wheeler sent me the inclosed at my request. You will have the words in more permanent shape. They seem to me remarkably well chosen, and stately and dignified enough to serve—long hence—please God—as your epitaph.

Yours faithfully,

John Hay.

"University of California,
"Office of the President.

"By authority vested in me by the regents of the University of California, I confer the degree of Doctor of Laws upon William McKinley, president of the United States, a statesman singularly gifted to unite the discordant forces of the government and mold the diverse purposes of men toward progressive and salutary action, a magistrate whose poise of judgment has been tested and vindicated in a succession of national emergencies; good citizen, brave soldier, wise executive, helper and leader of men, exemplar to his people of the virtues that build and conserve the state, society, and the home.

"Berkeley, May 15, 1901."

A Tribute to McKinley.

It would be hard to imagine an epitaph which a good citizen would be more anxious to deserve or one which would more happily describe the qualities of that great and good citizen whose life we here commemorate. He possessed to a very extraordinary degree the gift of uniting discordant forces and securing from them a harmonious action which told for good government. From purposes not merely diverse, but bitterly conflicting, he was able to secure healthful action for the good of the state. In both poise and judgment he rose level to the several emergencies he had to meet as leader of the nation, and like all men with the root of true greatness in them he grew to steadily larger stature under the stress of heavy responsibilities. He was a good citizen and a brave soldier, a chief executive whose wisdom entitled him to the trust which he received throughout the nation. He was not only a leader of men but pre-eminently a helper of men; for one of his most marked traits was the intensely human quality of his wide and deep sympathy. Finally, he not merely preached, he was, that most valuable of all citizens in a democracy like ours, a man who in the highest place served as an unconscious example to his people of the virtues that build and conserve alike our public life, and the foundation of all public life, the intimate life of the home.

McKinley's Life a Lesson in Sympathy.

Many lessons are taught us by his career, but none more valuable than the lesson of broad human sympathy for and among all of our citizens of all classes and creeds. No other president has ever more deserved to have his life work characterized in Lincoln's words as being carried on "with malice toward none, with charity toward all." As a boy he worked hard with his hands; he entered the army as a private soldier; he knew poverty; he earned his own livelihood; and by his own exertions he finally rose to the position of a man of moderate means. Not merely was he in personal touch with farmer and town dweller, with capitalist and wageworker, but he felt an intimate understanding of each, and therefore an intimate sympathy with each; and his consistent effort was to try to judge all by the same standard and to treat all with the same justice. Arrogance toward the weak, and envious hatred of those well off, were equally abhorrent to his just and gentle soul.

Surely this attitude of his should be the attitude of all our people today. It would be a cruel disaster to this country to permit ourselves to adopt an attitude of hatred and envy toward success worthily won, toward wealth honestly acquired. Let us in this respect profit by the example of the republics of this western hemisphere to the south of us. Some of these republics have prospered greatly; but there are certain ones that have lagged far behind, that still continue in a condition of material poverty, of social and political unrest and confusion. Without exception the republics of the former class are those in which honest industry has been assured of reward and protection; those where a cordial welcome has been extended to the kind of enterprise which benefits the whole country, while incidentally, as is right and proper, giving substantial rewards to those who manifest it. On the other hand, the poor and backward republics, the republics in which the lot of the average citizen is least desirable, and the lot of the laboring man worst of all, are precisely those republics in which industry has been killed because wealth exposed its owner to spoliation. To these communities foreign capital now rarely comes, because it has been found that as soon as capital is employed so as to give substantial remuneration to those supplying it, it excites ignorant envy and hostility, which result in such oppressive action, within or without the law, as sooner or later to work a virtual confiscation. Every manifestation of feeling of this kind in our civilization should be crushed at the outset by the weight of a sensible public opinion.

Dishonesty in Business.

From the standpoint of our material prosperity there is only one other thing as important as the discouragement of a spirit of envy and hostility toward honest business men, toward honest men of means; this is the discouragement of dishonest business men, the war upon the chicanery and wrongdoing which are peculiarly repulsive, peculiarly noxious, when exhibited by men who have no excuse of want, of poverty, of ignorance, for their crimes. Men of means, and above all men of great wealth, can exist in safety under the peaceful protection of the state, only in orderly societies, where liberty manifests itself through and under the law. It is these men who, more than any others, should, in the interests of the class to which they belong, in the interests of their children and their children's children, seek in every way, but especially in the conduct of their lives, to insist upon and to build up respect for the law. It may not be true from the standpoint of some peculiar individual of this class, but in the long run it is preeminently true from the standpoint of the class as a whole, no less than of the country as a whole, that it is a veritable calamity to achieve a temporary triumph by violation or evasion of the law; and we are the best friends of the man of property, we show ourselves the staunchest upholders of the rights of property, when we set our faces like flint against those offenders who do wrong in order to acquire great wealth or who use this whip of wealth as a help to wrong-doing.

Good and Evil Among All Classes.

Wrongdoing is confined to no class. Good and evil are to be found among both rich and poor, and in drawing the line among our fellows we must draw it on conduct and not on worldly possessions. In the abstract most of us will admit this. In the concrete we can act upon such doctrine only if we really have knowledge and sympathy with one another. If both the wage-worker and the capitalist are able to enter each into the other's life, to meet him so as to get into genuine sympathy with him, most of the misunderstanding between them will disappear and its place will be taken by a judgment broader, juster, more kindly, and more generous; for each will find in the other the same essential human attributes that exist in himself. It was President McKinley's peculiar glory that in actual practice he realized this as it is given to but few men to realize it; that his broad and deep sympathies made him feel a genuine sense of oneness with all his fellow-Americans, whatever their station or work in life, so that to his soul they were all joined with him in a great brotherly democracy of the spirit. It is not given to many of us in our lives actually to realize this attitude to the extent that he did; but we can at least have it before us as the goal of our endeavor, and by so doing we shall pay honor better than in any other way to the memory of the dead president whose services in life we this day commemorate.

Description of the Mausoleum.

The mausoleum stands on an eminence to which has been given the name of Monument Hill, about two miles due west of the McKinley home in the city of Canton. It is not an ornate affair, but its simplicity is relieved by sufficient artistic embellishment to make it an object of beauty, as well as one of massive proportions and breadth of design.

Four states have contributed a share of the material which has been used in the building of the monument. The granite used in the approaches and the mausoleum proper are from the quarries of Milford, Massachusetts. Tennessee has furnished the grey marble for the interior of the tomb, while the sarcophagi which now holds the bronze caskets in which lie the bodies of President and Mrs. McKinley are of dark green granite from Windsor, Vermont. The base upon which the sarcophagi rests is black granite from Berlin, Wis.

From the first step of the approach to the monument to the actual top of the structure is 163 feet 6 inches, the mausoleum itself being 98 feet 6 inches high above the summit of the mound. The top of the dome has an oculus 15 feet in diameter, through which comes a softened light which adds greatly to the beauty of the interior.

Where the Bodies Rest.

The mausoleum is 78 feet 9 inches in diameter. In the center of the floor beneath the dome stands the sarcophagi containing the bodies of the president and Mrs. McKinley, and in niches on the north side of the dome are the caskets containing those of the two daughters, Ida and Mary, who died in infancy.

Huge doric columns are placed around the interior in such a manner as to appear half buried in the sides of the building. The floor is of mosaic, marble having been brought from many states for the purpose.

Half way down from the top of the 125 granite steps that lead up to the main entrance on the south side of the mausoleum stands an heroic bronze figure of President McKinley, representing him in the attitude usually assumed when speaking—his right hand holding a roll of manuscript, and the left hand in the trouser's pocket. Behind the figure is a bronze chair encircled with a wreath, and draped with the flag of the United States. The bronze figure which is nine feet high, stands on a pedestal eighteen feet from the base to the feet of the figure.

Ample and Beautiful Grounds.

Twenty-six acres of ground were purchased by the monument commission and the utmost art of the landscape gardner has been lavished upon the grounds. Natural streams flow past the base of the mound, and trees and flower beds have been arranged with an eye to the greatest artistic beauty. From the entrance to the grounds on the south to the foot of the mound is 500 feet, and along this distance a double driveway 175 feet in width has been constructed. Between the two sides of the driveway is a lagoon which is constantly filled with fresh water. Long rows of trees flank the lagoon and the driveways.

The mausolem and grounds have been built and arranged at a cost of $500,000, and it is the intention of the commission to raise an endowment fund of $150,000, which will preclude the charging of a fee for admission.

At the next meeting of the mausoleum trustees custodians will be chosen and it is the intention to ask for an indefinite detail of soldiers of the regular army to guard the tomb.

The architect was H. Van Buren Magonigle, of New York, and the designer of the bronze figure standing before the mausoleum was Charles Henry Niehaus.

Attractive Hair Ornaments for Evening Wear

Novel Coiffure Decorations Elaborately Made of Glittering Stones and Plumes, Etc.

By Elizabeth Lee.

The new hair ornaments for evening wear are fascinating, but few women will use them because they are so expensive, being made of glittering stones, etc. A charming decoration in this style is fashioned from rhinestone bowknots, mounted on tortoise shell pins that may be so arranged on one of the modish high coiffures that a tiny coronet effect is easily secured. If in addition to these sparkling clusters birds of paradise plumes, ostrich tips and feathery froths are used the ornaments become really handsome.

One of the most novel of these is shown above. The decoration itself is a glittering mass and the added portion flaring back Indian fashion is of undressed ostrich feathers, cut and trimmed to the desired size. The bone of these feathers is covered with rhinestones set closely together.

This particular ornament is very expensive, of course, but is so striking that it will make even a mediocre toilet decidedly smart and pretty, and so might not be a bad investment.

This style may be the choice of young matrons, while older women will find the paradise plumes more becoming. Where hair is scant this fluffiness is an absolute charity, and is so light and pretty that it cannot fail to be generally becoming.

Ornaments for girls have not been forgotten, for there are lovely ribbon arrangements for debutantes. Of these pink ribbon roses covered with mock diamonds imitating dewdrops are the prettiest decoration imaginable.

Another filet style composed of two wide-open pink roses connected by a band twisted with ribbon and then scattered with a few green leaves and tiny pink rosebuds, the whole sprinkled with rhinestones, is stunning.

Combs for day wear are of tortoise shell, mounted with gold or silver filigree. These are considered in better taste than the ones decorated with stones, though there are some women who prefer the stones during all hours. The newest jewelled models are studded with stones instead of having straight lines edging the frame. An exception to this, however, is one style with a row of rhinestones at the top.

BAKED POTATOES ON HALF-SHELL.

Bake rather large potatoes in a brisk oven for about forty-five minutes. When soft, take out, cut in two lengthwise, remove the interior, taking care not to break the skin. Put into a bowl, and for six potatoes allow a tablespoonful butter, a teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful pepper and a scant cup of hot cream. If milk is used, be more generous with the butter. Unsweetened condensed milk may also be used. Now whip briskly until the mass is as "light as a feather" and snowy white, return to the shells, smooth the top of each with a knife dipped in cold milk, set on the oven grate to crisp and serve at once. A little grated cheese is sometimes sprinkled over the top of the potatoes, then crisped.

ORDER PERFECTION BREAD IT'S PERFECT BREAD.

A STARTLING PROPHECY

But One That Is Based on Solid Facts.

The New York Independent states editorially: "The musical instrument generally known by the name of the Pianola has been recognized by the lay and professional mind alike as a serious and permanent musical instrument. It seems to be probable that in a few years no piano will be made without the roll mechanism as an adjunct."

The Reference Here is To THE PIANOLA PIANO

The time has passed to speculate upon the future of the Pianola Piano. It is here today as the most successful innovation in musical instruments of modern times.

There is nothing doubtful about its standing, for in thousands of homes it has supplanted the old-style piano and its popularity has extended all over the world, even into countries where no other American piano is heard of. Abroad, it has been purchased by Royalty, and in this country by eminent persons whose names are household words.

The musical trade is fully posted on the great and growing demand for the Pianola Piano, and all sorts of imitations and substitutes are now offered. Remember, then, that it is the Pianola Piano that has created the present revolution in the piano industry, and that no instrument is a genuine Pianola Piano unless it is made by the Aeolian Company.

There are four pianos, and only four pianos, that are made as Pianola Pianos—the Weber, the Steck, the Wheelock, and the Stuyvesant. Each of these is a standard in its class, each represents the highest order of musical value obtainable at anything like its price.

FAST GAME CLOSES IN A ONE-TO-NOTHING VICTORY

Shamrocks Beat Delphos in Ninth Inning of Warm Contest.

Tom Railing, sent in to sub for "Kloney" Erickson in the last half of the ninth inning of yesterday's ball-fest, spiked one of "Stub" Wentz's curves and slammed it against the right field bank for the one tally of the game and wound up a shivering session in a 1-to-0 victory for the locals.

Delphos, all loaded up to puncture the winning record of the Shamrocks, lugged home a goose egg while the locals by good ball playing got the big end of the net proceeds. It was some ball game right through. Cold weather and lowering clouds put a serious crimp in the enthusiasm of the majority of the fanatics, but a few of them had the "Benjamins" out of moth balls and they were there to the number of a thousand and stuck for the finish.

Frederick "Cyclone" Alberts worked fast all the way through and he had everything with supreme control over his whole repertoire. Five men whiffed, five hit and none walked, and although there were a couple of fielding errors behind the pitcher they did not cost a run. Wentz had corking support or his wildness would have cost him a drubbing. He let Smith walk twice out of four times up and Dennis waited and won three out of four times.

The real doings were pulled off just as the fans had huddled together and settled for an extra inning matinee. Koons was the first man up and made three failures in his attempts to tear the cover off the ball. Dennis just waited and fouled a couple off and got his base. Then he collaborated with Cherry in a hit and run function, but the heavy going and a short center field hit made it unsafe to try for more than one bag.

Tom Railing was sent in at this point to bat for Erickson and while he was waiting for something he liked Dennis pilfered third. Railing looked them over a few minutes and when one came along that tickled his fancy he biffed it and planted it in deep right. Dennis came in and that was about all.

The game lasted an hour and a quarter and was worth the money. There wasn't a dull second in the whole session and the Shamrocks won strictly on their merits as there were no lucky breaks for or against either team. George Tieman supported Alberts in great style and it was determined by the management not to take a chance on changing the battery, although Railing and Hoffer were ready for duty.

The visitors pulled off two double plays, both of which were made possible by the heavy going as the grounds were muddy from a couple of days of rain. The score:

MACK LOSES PITCHER BENDER.

Indian's Arm Crippled for Rest of the Season.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—The Athletic base ball club faces the greatest crisis of its career, and a victory over Detroit and Chicago in the American league penant race will be little short of marvelous. It has been learned from official sources that Bender, the great Indian pitcher on Manager Mack's staff and the man who has kept them in the race all season, would not handle a ball again this season.

Bender's arm is so crippled from overwork that he has been ordered by the doctor to keep out of the game for the rest of the season.

Manager Mack will not use Waddell again, as the players are disgusted with his tactics and poor fielding in recent games. This puts the task of winning the American league pennant on to two pitchers, Eddie Plank and Jimmy Dygert, who must twirl all of the remaining games. This is a tremendous undertaking, as the Athletics play two games with Detroit tomorrow, then three with Cleveland, and then four in two days with Washington, making nine in five days.

COLUMBUS WALLOPS TORONTO.

Substitution of Pitchers With the Bases Full is Costly.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Columbus defeated Toronto in the third game of the series for the class A minor league championship. In the seventh inning, with the bases full, McGinley relieved Mitchell in the pitcher's box for Toronto and Kihm hit the first ball thrown safely, scoring two runs and winning the game for the locals. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Toronto has won two and Columbus one game. The score:

Toronto	0	0	0	0	2	2	0	1	—5	10	2

REJOICE AT MULLIN'S WORK.

Wabash Admirers Glad He Has Won Bonus of $500.

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 30.—Wabash fans are rejoicing in the good fortune of George Mullin in landing his twentieth victory and the bonus of $500 offered him for doing this. This city furnished Rohe for the White Sox, who won out a year ago, and Mullin of the Detroit team. Mullin got in practice last winter by playing basket ball. He claimed this would put him in fine shape and seemingly it did.

His contract was for a straight salary of $3,500 a year and $500 bonus should he pitch and win twenty games. This he has done. Mullin is a member of the Wabash Athletic association. A year ago he played indoor base ball, but decided that basket ball would add to his speed and accuracy and last winter changed to this sport.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 30.—Munson, the veteran guard of the varsity, returned to Notre Dame weighing 200 pounds, and may resume his studies. The early season hoodoo has put in an appearance, and although scrimmage has not yet been strated, Quarter Back Dillon, End Le Clercq and Tackle Dolam are on the hospital list with injuries. MRS. CHAS. M'CULLOCH DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

W. C. Bock, Suprintendent of Streets, Passes Away —Other Daths.

Mrs. Ada Willison McCulloch, wife of Charles McCulloch, died at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at the family residence, 404 West Wayne street, from Bright's disease, with which she had been suffering for many months. Mrs. McCulloch's illness dates from early summer, when she was critically ill for several weeks at the suburban home of the family southwest of the city. Later there was encouraging improvement in her condition, but it proved to be but temporary. A few weeks ago the invalid was brought to the family home in this city, and she declined gradually until the end came Sunday.

Mrs. McCulloch was born in Massillon, Ohio. Upon the death of her mother while she was yet a mere child, the daughter was taken to Beloit, Wis., and reared in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Kate Patten. Here she was educated in the public schools and in the Beloit Young Ladies' seminary, from which she graduated with high honors, and for a short time thereafter was a teacher in the public schools of Beloit. It was while thus engaged that she was united in marriage to Fred Thomas Zollars. They removed to Fort Wayne, and here some years later occurred the death of Mr. Zollars.

Twenty-four years ago the widow was united in marriage to Charles McCulloch, of this city, president of the Hamilton National bank, and during her last illness one of her fondest hopes was that she might be permitted to live to celebrate the silver anniversary of that event in June next. Mrs. McCulloch was a woman of fine intellect, education and culture, gifted as a musician and devotedly charitable. Her benefactions, though distributed quietly and without ostentation, were unusually extensive and generous, and none knew of their extent save she who gave and they who received. She was of kindly and generous impulses, the sufferings of the needy moved her deeply and she never failed to respond to an appeal for aid or to relieve distress by her abundant charity as often as it came to her notice. She was devoted to her family, valued friends highly, was hospitable in her home and thoughtful and considerate of all about her. Her disposition was sunny and kindly and even in the closing days of her life she cheered those about her with her hopeful, uncomplaining spirit.

Mrs. McCulloch retained her membership in the Congregational church at Beloit, Wis., though in this city she was an attendant of Trinity Episcopal church and active in support of its work. Surviving relatives include the husband and three children—Horace Zollars, of the Chicago Tribune; Mrs. Edith Fullerton, of Chicago, and Frederick McCulloch, of this city.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, Rev. W. W. Daup, curate of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating. The interment at Lindenwood will be private.

MEYER.

Mrs. Elizabeth Martha Meyer, wife of Otto C. Meyer, died at 6:20 o'clock Sunday morning at the family home, 1922 Webster street, from tuberculosis, at the age of 27 years. Mrs. Meyer was a young woman of fine intellect, admirable traits of character and possessed a very wide circle of friends.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lapp, and was born and reared in Fort Wayne. The father is the well known lieutenant of police. Surviving relatives include the grief-stricken young husband, a son, Robert Meyer, aged 4; the parents, a sister, Mrs. Martin Hobrock, and three brothers—Henry, Charles and Albert Lapp, all residing in this city. The deceased was a devoted member of Emmaus Lutheran church.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from the Emmaus Lutheran church. Interment at Lindenwood. The pall bearers will be J. H. Hobrock, H. W. Glass, Edward Bittler, Edward Hobrock, Adam LaMar and Albert Manth.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Seibert, of Oak Park, Ill., and Mrs. Harry A. Arnold, of this city, with whom she was living at the time of her death, and one grandchild, Ritter Howard Arnold. Her husband, J. J. Ritter, preceded her in death eleven years ago. She was a member of the Salem Reformed church.

Mrs. Josephine Guiff, wife of Frank Guiff, died at her home in Perry township, eight and one-half miles north of the city, Sunday morning at 1 o'clock, of cancer, after a lingering illness of one year.

Mrs. Guiff was born in France September 4, 1845, and came to America when but 15 years of age and settled in Allen county where she resided all her life. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Mary, residing at home, and one brother, John Pachin, of Ege, Noble county, and one sister, Mrs. Marshal Guiff, also of Ege.

He learned the trade of a carpenter, and later engaged in business as a contractor, following this line of work until his appointment as street commissioner by Mayor Hosey two years ago. He was a well known citizen, a competent official and was very highly esteemed. Surviving relatives include the widow and five children—Idella, Edwin, Wilmer, Alma and Lorene Bock. The aged father also survives, as do two sisters—Mrs. Fred Brandt and Mrs. Fred Doehrman. Mr. Bock was a member of Emmaus Lutheran church and of the Bruederliche Unterstuetzung verein.

FORT WAYNE IS AFTER NEW PYTHIAN HOME FOR ORPHANS

Report of Mrs. Sinclair Shows Gain in Ladies' Branch.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—The report to be submitted by Mrs. Laura Sinclair, of Waterloon, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, whose grand temple holds its annual session in Indianapolis during the first three days of this week, will show increased gains in membership and temples throughout the state as well as the fact that the order is in better financial condition than it was at this time last year.

Mrs. Sinclair's report will show that the increased membership over last year is 889, while that of the Knights of Pythias is 415. The balance on hand this year is $9,362.17, a much larger balance than that of last year. The sum of $16,755.83 has been raised for the State Orphans' home.

Mrs. Sinclair has been in the city for the past two or three days arranging for the meeting. Mrs. Elizabeth Kautch, of Terre Haute, one of the state officials, and Mrs. Alice Lee Gillman, also of Terre Haute, past grand chief, Mrs. Viola Steeley, of Covington, chairman of the grand finance committee; Mrs. Mildred Sitman, of Lagrange, a member of the committee, and other Grand Temple officers arrived in the city yesterday.

"The city of Fort Wayne wants the orphans' home," said Mrs. Sinclair yesterday. "The question of locating the home will come up at the meetings of the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian sisters this week. We have not yet enough money to build the home and we can not tell as yet just what will be done. A site for the home is under consideration at Fort Wayne."

Meetings at Castle Hall.

"I have had a dreadful time trying to find a place for the Grand Temple to meet," continued Mrs. Sinclair, "but with the assistance of Union B. Hunt and others of the K. of P. officials we have secured Castle hall, on East Ohio street, near Alabama. We feel very grateful to the lodge for letting us have this hall and to those who helped us to secure it."

The grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, will hold its sessions at the K. of P. building. The knights will have their headquarters at the Denison The Pythian sisters will have their headquarters at the Grand hotel, where the grand officers are now staying.

All of today was taken up with committee meetings. Tonight the grand officers will tender a reception to the members of the order at the Grand hotel.

Some 400 women are expected to attend the meetings this week. Tomorrow sessions of the Grand Temple will begin at Castle hall. The sessions will continue Tuesday and Wednesday.

ARRESTED IN A CHOIR LOFT AS ANTHEM WAS ENDED

Organist With Family in Indiana is Taken at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—As he had finished the opening anthem of the afternoon service yesterday, Edward R. Snyder, aged 52, who has a wife and two children living in Indiana, was arrested on serious charges brought by Miss Margaret Caldwell, an eighteen year old girl.

The arrest caused a great stir in the young folks' service, for which the organist was playing at the Centenary Methodist church. Scarcely had the vibration of the great organ died away, and the audience was still under the spell of his skillful playing, when two uniformed officers stepped from the door leading to the choir room and placed the man under arrest. He was hustled midst smothered protestations from the church.

The young woman who brought the charge alleges her relations with the organist began when she was thirteen years old and have continued since. She is a handsome girl, just budding into womanhood. It was not without many tears that she told her story to the police. She lives at 6338 Obert avenue, St. Louis county.

Snyder was formerly organist in Mt. Auburn Methodist church, south, this city, near the home of the girl who has now caused his arrest. It was while there that he first saw her, and, as she says, first began to wield his powerful influence over her.

Snyder has a wife and two children living in Indiana, but he refuses to tell at what place. He was questioned closely, but all attempts to force him to tell of his family were vain. He seemed to wish to shield them from the disgrace of the affair.

SPIRIT LETS BELL FALL.

Demonstrator Is Injured in a Seance at Anderson.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 30.—While conducting a seance at the Grand Opera house last evening, C. M. Sawyer, a spiritualist, was injured by a part of his apparatus falling on his head and cutting it so that it bled profusely.

The demonstrator was tied to a chair and placed in his cabinet. A number of little hand bells, which are said to have been rung by spirits, were thrown from the cabinet. The demonstration was progressing nicely when one of the bells dropped on the spiritualist's head. The performance was stopped until the demonstrator's wound could be taken care of. Sawyer then continued, though he showed from time to time that the wound was giving him great pain.

WITNESS REPELLED THE ADVANCES MADE BY MRS. BOALS

Said She Came to His Room and He Ordered Her Out—The Courts.

A paragon of manly virtue developed in the superior court today in the divorce suit of Harvie Boals against Bertha Boals in which the husband obtained a decree on the ground that his wife had been indiscreet. The witness, whose name was not put upon the records, said that he was a boarder at the Boals home and that the young wife insisted upon coming to his rooms and made a number of advances which indignantly repelled.

He told her, he said, that her place was down stairs in the kitchen and he wanted her to stay there and not bother him. This was given as an instance of the wife's unseemly conduct. They applied for a marriage license here in February 1906, but when the record had been made out it was ascertained that the woman had not been a resident of Allen county thirty days and they were turned down. She stated at the time of the application she had not been married before but Boals testified on the witness stand this morning that after he had been married a month a street car conductor, whose name he could not recall, told him that she had been married to him at one time. The wedding took place in Lima and the testimony showed that the wife abandoned her husband about a year ago.

Winding Up Its Session.

The fact that there were few witnesses before the grand jury during the day is taken as an indication that the body is winding up the business of its session. Most of the witnesses called during the forenoon were members of the Good Citizenship league, and none was on hand for the afternoon.

Mrs. Franke Gets Decree.

Mary F. Franke was given a divorce from Edward Franke after she had filed a new complaint in the superior court. She withdrew her original pleading when the case came on for trial but the husband insisted on a hearing on his cross-complaint. She is to receive $2,800 and is to be allowed to spend one day each week with her young son. The case occupied several days in trial and Judge Heaton took it under advisement.

Will Is Probated.

The will of Mary Ann Thomas was offered in the circuit court today and admitted to probate. She devised one-third of her Lakeside property to E. P. Thomas, her husband, and the remainder to her son, Willard Thomas, who is charged with the payment to his two sisters of $500 each. The will was probated by T. J. Logan and was written by Mrs. Thomas on her deathbed.

HOOSIERS SAY THAT THEY WERE BILKED IN MINE SCHEME

Promoter Wilson, Arrested at Joplin, Must Explain Things.

Indianapolis, Sept. 30.—En route from Joplin, Mo., charged with obtaining thousands of dollars from Indiana people by the promoting of a fraudulent mining enterprise, Maj. H. C. Wilson, a mine operator, is being brought to Indianapolis by Detective Samuel Gerber, of the Indianapolis police, and Albert W. Wishard, an Indianapolis attorney. Wilson's arrest was effected at Joplin Friday and he was surrendered yesterday to Detective Gerber, who left Indianapolis immediately following his arrest armed with requisition papers signed by Governor Hanly.

Back of the arrest and return of Wilson are affidavits signed by at least six Indianapolis business men of high standing, who, themselves victims of Wilson's alleged fraudulent schemes, charge also that there are scores of others of the state, but chiefly of Indianapolis and Anderson, who stand to lose in large sums. The affidavits on which the arrest was made were signed last week by A. J. O'Reilly, general agent for the Monon railway; Joseph E. Harris, agent for the Union Star line, and Robert W. Reid, of Kingan & Co., meat packers.

In addition to these men are said to be Senator Edgar E. Hendee, of Anderson; Addison C. Harris, Charles W. Miller, former attorney general; James W. Lilly and Frank D. Stalnaker, Aquilla Q. Jones and Alexander C. Ayres, Medford Wilson, president of the Columbia National bank; John N. Carey and a number of others of equal prominence, all of whom, according to the affidavits, stand to lose in sums ranging from $1,000 to $4,000.

Has "Frenzied" Flavor.

The story of Wilson's operations in Missouri mining property, as told by the men he is alleged to have swindled, has a flavor of frenzied finance. According to the statements of the men who sign the charges against Wilson they "got in" on the Wilson enterprise late and there has been backwardness in the beginning of prosecution, although for months they have been dissatisfied.

Wilson first appeared in Indianapolis about two years ago, when he took office rooms in the State Life building in the office of Clifton R. Cameron and began to promote the formation of the Joplin and Cincinnati Mining company on the purported possession of 200 acres of lead and zinc land near Joplin, Mo.

Some of the Indianapolis men say that Wilson was introduced to them through Senator Hendee, of Anderson, and they first became interested in the company because of the fact that the Madison county senator and business man looked on it with favor. So many reputable names became associated with Wilson properties that many other purchased stock.

Following his appearance and the sale of over $100,000 worth of stock in the first enterprise, the company began paying 2 per cent. dividends, and this was kept up for eighteen months. Subsequent investigation, it is said, revealed the fact that Wilson paid dividends to stockholders from moneys collected in selling the stock and that the mine did not even pay its own operating expenses.

The Amazon Mining company and the Lilly Mining company were two others afterward promoted by Wilson, and it was not until a year after over $150,000 worth of stock had been disposed of by the operator at Indianapolis, Anderson and South Bend that suspicious stockholders caused an investigation to be made.

MISSIONS WIPED OUT IN OUTBREAK OF BOXERISM

Catholic Institutions in China Suffer; Americans Are Safe.

Shanghai, Sept. 30.—Details received here today in regard to the outbreak of Boxerism at Kanchowfu, province of Kiang-Si, last week, say that the building of the Catholic mission and the China island mission there were destroyed as the results of riots organized against the "worshippers of the great white God."

A French priest was killed, but the other missionaries, including the Americans, Messrs. Horne and Marshall and their families, are safe.

The Chinese officials have sent detachments of soldiers to Kanchowfu to restore order and have taken steps to protect the missionaries.

The authorities announce that the cholera epidemic, which broke out here towards the end of August has now been stamped out.

Both Are Miners and Swear They Were in the Hof Brau.

Two young men who were arrested on the street early this morning for drunkenness and fighting and who gave the assumed names of Jack Mitchell and Ben Underwood, were fined $5 and costs after they had testified that they bought beer at the Hoff Brau at 1 o'clock this morning.

Both said they had no trouble getting what they wanoed to drink, but as they were minors and had not been in trouble before they were allowed to go under a suspension with a warning to cut out drink unless they went to be brought into court and made pay the fines or go to jail.

The Other Cases.

Part of the evidence against William Stuckey, charged with stealing $70, was heard and the case was continued until tomorrow so that he can get his witnesses together.

John Lee got $100 and costs and thirty days, Frank Grady $5 and costs and Martin Orry $1 and costs for drunkenness.

Taunton, Mass., Sept. 30.—"I've arrived home just in time," said George F. Fletcher, a farmer, to his wife as he entered the kitchen of his home in Raynhand. He referred to a heavy thunder storm which had just begun.

Scarcely had he spoken when he fell dead in his wife's arms, struck by a lightning bolt which came through the roof. The house was burned. The wife aided by members of the family and neighbors, rescued the body.

Mrs. Charles Leonard, of East Taunton, was instantly killed by another bolt. Her body was found in the parlor by her husband on his return home.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Sept. 30.—Prices started downward with the opening of the week, the copper stocks, Union Pacific and Reading being the only exceptions. Mackay Companies preferred sold at a decline of 2½, Great Northern preferred 1½, Northern Pacific, Kansas & Texas preferred a point and Louisville & Nashville ⅝. American Smelting rose ⅝.
The decline at the opening encouraged buying for both accounts and there was an immediate rally which placed the leaders generally a small fraction above Saturday's closing. Iowa Central preferred sank 3⅜ points, but recovered 2. Virginia Iron declined 3½. On the rebound Allis-Chalmers preferred moved up 1¾. Reading 1⅛. There was some setback to the advance, but prices recovered again to the best.
The stiffness of the money market from the monthly settlement requirements was a discouragement to operations on the long side, but extensive retirement of short contracts made an active demand for stocks and prices rose vigorously. The advance in Canadian Pacific reached 3¾. Amalgamated Copper 2⅜ and Union Pacific 2. Central Railroad of New Jersey fell 2, Illinois Central 1¾. St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred 1¼ and Wheeling & Lake Erie first preferred, Pittsburg Coal and International Metropolitan preferred 2. Bonds were irregular.
The completion of the early buying left the market without an effective prop and prices eased gradually until the recession reached a point in Union Pacific, St. Paul, Reading and Amalgamated Copper.
Large selling orders appeared in St. Paul and when it declined to 115¼ the rest of the list yielded to Saturday's closing.
The market closed firm and very dull. There was a brisk recovery in the final hour which lifted some of the active stocks to the top level of the morning. Canadian Pacific's rise reached 12⅝. Anaconda gained 1¾. Delaware & Hudson 2. American Sugar 1¼. Baltimore & Ohio preferred sold at a decline of 2½. General Electric 2¼. Kansas City Southern 1⅝.

DOCTORS AID LIQUOR FIGHT.

Gibson County Association Says a Pint is Enough for a Prescription.

Princeton, Ind., Sept. 30.—Physicians of this county, not to be outdone by the preachers in the reform movement, have decided that a pint of whisky is as much as any man should get at one time on a prescription. Heretofore a prescription properly signed was good for a quart of liquor, if that amount had been designated, at any drug store in this city.

This action, taken by the Gibson County Medical association, is the result of an impression which has grown that the prescription business in this line is overdone. Doctors of the association have likewise pledged themselves to write no whisky prescription for any man known to be a drunkard.

BABY ESTRANGES COUPLE.

Wife Seeks Divorce Because Two Can Not Agree as to Name.

New York, Sept. 30.—After a year of wedded happiness, Frank and Selma Eckhardt have decided to separate because they can noto agree upon a name for their first-born baby.

Whether the baby girl should be named after the wife's mother or after the husband's was the cause of the trouble, and it was such a serious obstacle to happiness in the Eckhardt household that Mrs. Eckhardt, who is only 17, decided to apply to the court for a separation from her husband, whose age is 20, and the case will come up for hearing in the superior court today.

FOUND MISSING TRAINMAN.

Relatives of J. P. Kreisher Locate Him in Kansas City.

James P. Kreisher, the Nickel Plate baggageman, who mysteriously disappeared in Chicago last May, is undoubtedly in Kansas City. A telegram to relatives, signed by Charles H. Bossler, under date of Kansas City, read as follows: "Have found Jim; have him at my house. Telegraph right away." This was received Friday night and Conductor J. F. Long and Mrs. Kreisher, the wife of the missing man, left Saturday for Kansas City and it is presumed that they are with him now. From the circumstances surrounding the case it is presumed that Mr. Kreisher lost his mind suddenly and has been wandering about aimlessly since. The fact that he was wounded in the head in a railway accident at Fostoria about a year ago gives color to this theory. As soon after the accident as he was able to work, he was transferred to the passenger department and given a run as baggageman between Chicago and Bellevue.

Friends of the unfortunate man are anxiously awaiting a report from Mr. Long or Mrs. Kreisher, though none doubts the truth of the telegram from Bossler.

SWITCH ENGINE WRECKED.

String of Cars Sideswipes No. 81 in Pennsylvania Yards.

A slippery track this morning resulted in an accident at the Lafayette street yards of the Pennsylvania in which Engineer James L. Liggett had a narrow escape from injury and engine 81 had her cab torn off and appurtenances greatly disturbed. Mr. Liggett was making what is termed a "drop switch," which is accomplished by moving forward rapidly with the cars and then cutting loose and running ahead, allowing them to pass down another track than that taken by the engine. Unfortunately this morning the track the engine took was slippery and Engineer Liggett could not stop the locomotive. It ran ahead and got on a cross over track leading to the one on which the cars were riding just in time to get the full force of the string of cars in its right side. Mr. Liggett escaped injury by getting on the other side of the cab just as the collision occurred.

EXAMINING BIG CLASS.

Twenty-five Nickel Plate Firemen Up for Promotion.

Trainmaster E. S. Kirby and Chief Dispatcher D. H. Caldwell, of the Nickel Plate, are engaged today in making final examination of a class of twenty-five firemen who are up for promotion to engineers. The examinations are being made in the O. R. C. hall, on Calhoun street, in the absence of suitable room in the Nickel Plate buildings. All of the applicants have been in service a long time and there is no fear of failure on the part of any to pass the examinations.

ENGINEMEN PROMOTED.

G. R. & I. Advances Three Firemen and Reassigns Some Engineers.

The change of time card yesterday, which was pretty thorough in its effect upon the passenger train schedule of the G. R. & I., has necessitated some changes in the assignment of enginemen. Three firemen, G. Miracle, M. Horgan and D. S. LaVan, were promoted to engineers and Engineer S. A. Hiser and Engineer John Abercrombie have been assigned new duties. Mr. Hiser, who had a short passenger run between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, has been transferred to the Richmond division and Abercrombie has been promoted from freight to passenger service and sent north to take the short run between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids.

Thence they will go to New Haven via the interurban and arrangements have been made to furnish free transportation to all members of the B. R. T. CHANGES AT ROLLING MILLS.

James C. Edmunds has resigned as night superintendent at the Rolling Mills and has been succeeded by S. J. Gordon, who was formerly the weighmaster at the plant. Ill health induced Mr. Edmunds to resign. He will reside on a farm in the vicinity of Toledo. He held the position at the Rolling Mills about eighteen months.

A VALUABLE PRESCRIPTION

—FOR—

RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY & BLADDER TROUBLES

published by permission of the Eminent Specialist, DR. G. E. FLOOD

We are glad to be able to publish for the benefit of our readers Dr. George Edmund Flood's famous prescription for rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles. Dr. Flood's remarkable success in treating rheumatism and all diseases of the kidneys and bladder has placed him first among all Specialists on these diseases. He attributes his success almost entirely to the following prescription. It is the result of years of investigation and experience. We publish it just as it came from the doctor direct to us:

℞ Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic ½ ounce
Concentrated Rankola Compound 1 ounce
Aromatic Elixir ½ ounces
Directions.
One teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime.

Children One-quarter to One-half Teaspoonful After Meals.

This prescription can be filled at any good Drug Store, or, better still, the ingredients can be purchased separately and mixed at home simply by shaking in a bottle. If not in need of it now, we would advise our readers to cut this out and save it.
